FINANCIAL MAGNATES AS PRIVATES

Some idea of the seriousness with which the war is being taken in Canada may be had by the accompanying snapshots made recently during the evacuation of the Montreal forces by the Duke of Connaught. Men of large build are taking their military duty seriously and are drilling in the ranks.
Simple private of the home guard. Beginning with the man at the right to the officer with his back turned is Sir Frederick Williams-Taylor, General manager of the Bank of Montreal, next to him is A. E. Holt, general manager of the Royal Trust company, and the next to him is A. D. MacTavish of the Canadian Pacific railway. The officer second from the left is the Duke of Connaught, whose face is lighted with a smile when he recognizes Sir Frederick.

REPORT FROM BERLIN SAYS THAT AMERICANS HAVE BEEN NOTIFIED TO BE READY TO LEAVE

DAMAGE IN OKLAHOMA.

By Associated Press.
LONDON, June 4.—An exchange telegraph dispatch received here says that the American colony in Berlin has been warned officially that diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany may be broken off in forty-eight hours and that all Americans should be ready to leave Germany at once.

NO LIVES LOST.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 4.—President Wilson's second note to Germany was approved at today's cabinet meeting and the President is working tonight, making changes in its phraseology.

It became known after the cabinet meeting that the note will deny the allegations in the last German communication, that the Lusitania was armed and carried explosives in violation of American law, and that it will vigorously demand that Germany respect American lives on the high seas.

The note will be cabled to Berlin not later than Monday.
It fixes the principle unalterably that the United States must know promptly if Germany intends to ignore all visit and search rights and to continue torpedoing vessels without warning, thus placing the lives of non-combatants in jeopardy.
It sets aside as irrelevant all of Germany's contentions except the question of whether the Lusitania was armed and will say in this connection, that competent American inspectors report that the Lusitania sailed without guns, mounted or unmounted, and will call attention to the fact that the Lusitania offered no resistance.

It is generally believed that if the German reply is unfavorable, the United States will discontinue diplomatic rela-

The note will be comparatively brief, but insistent and emphatic. Minor changes in its phraseology are being made to make it conform with previous expressions of the United States in diplomatic correspondence. The arrival of a communication from the German government today dealing with the attacks of the American steamers Gulf Light and Cushing, made unnecessary any discussion of these cases in the new note. The United States had not for that matter, been disposed to discuss in the new note any of these cases. When the principles of the main issue—submarine warfare on merchant ships—are settled, the Lusitania and Falaba cases, in which more than one hundred Americans lost their lives, will be taken up.

Secretary Bryan had a private conference with President Wilson before the cabinet meeting. Counsellor Robert Lansing, who prepared some of the memoranda on which the new note was based, was invited by the President to sit at the cabinet table and advise them on points of international law.

It is stated that the sending of Meyer Gerlach, an attaché of the German Colonial office, to Emperor William as special envoy of Ambassador Bernstorff, to carry messages from the embassy and outline the American point of view to the government at Berlin, will not delay the dispatching of the American note. At Germany's headquarters here it is believed the German reply will be withheld until the envoy's arrival in Berlin. The trip, it is estimated, will require at least a fortnight.

The note Germany cabled to the State Department today expressed her regret that a German submarine, through an "unfortunate accident," torpedoed the American steamship Gulf Light and declared Germany was ready to fully recompense the American citizens for the damage. It says the accident was due to the proximity of two British patrol boats and to the absence of distinctive marks showing the Gulf Light to be a neutral ship, and that the submarine commander first observed the American flag after firing the shot.

The same note says that Germany is unable yet to clear up the reported aeroplane attack on the American steamer Cushing and asks the United States for all the facts in her possession.

The Captain of the Gulf Light died of heart trouble and two seamen were drowned when the Gulf Light was torpedoed.
